

At St. Paulinus through the delivery of our History Curriculum we would like children to;

- Gain an excellent knowledge and understanding of people, events and contexts from a range of historic periods and of historical concepts and processes.
- Have the ability to think critically about history and communicate ideas very confidently in styles appropriate to a range of audiences.
- Be able to consistently support, evaluate and challenge their own and others' views using detailed, appropriate and accurate historical evidence derived from a range of sources.
- Think, reflect, debate, discuss and evaluate past, formulating and refining questions and lines of enquiry.
- Be passionate about History and have an enthusiastic engagement in learning, which develops their sense of curiosity about the past and their understanding of how and why people interpret the past in different ways.
- Have a respect for historical evidence and use it accurately to support their explanations and judgements.
- Be confident to embrace challenging activities, including the opportunity to take part in research across a range of historical topics.
